BOOK SYNOPSIS

We have ALL become Visual Learners, with ever-present smartphones and interactive media. If you want a more stimulating approach to your prep time for the NEW SAT, this is your tool to gain points. If you crave color and illustration in your study - "visual learning" - you will find this a perfect match for your needs. If you need action to capture your attention - "kinesthetic learning" - you will also find this volume a perfect companion to the official College Board 2016 Study Guide. This little manual offers "high-yield" methods of test performance in a format that is unforgettable. It is saturated with color images, and encourages hands-on engagement through pencil work, with drawing and figure manipulations. For the student and tutor alike, this is a Brain Break from repetitive exercise, a guide for Millennial thinkers. Heres Your To Do list: Do come to recognize the simplicities built into the test. Do learn the insights that work on multiple problems across the test. Do practice the high-yield habits that ensure a better result. In this book, in a high-impact graphic format designed to stick to your memory, you will find simple strategies you wont learn elsewhere, but that will apply again and again during the test. You can do this. The answers are inside."
